

PIER HUT

At the end of April a local club called Men's Sheds offered their help in the redecoration of our Pier Hut.

This group is based in Poole and aims to provide a welcoming environment for men to stay active, socialise and share skills whilst undertaking DIY projects for local communities, charities and groups.

The Pier Hut had become in need of some TLC so Men's Sheds offered to step in and help. A team of 6 volunteers gave up various amounts of time and days to replacing rotten wood, stripping off old paint, replacing broken glass and putty, filling damaged areas, applying a weather proof undercoat and then 2 coats of the traditional Brownsea Island gloss exterior paint. They are also planning to return towards the end of the season to set about doing the same on the interior of the hut.

I'm sure you will agree the exterior of our Pier Hut has now taken on a new fresh, bright look and as one of the first objects seen by visitors to the island, on these glorious sunny days, can only add to the enjoyment of their visit.

Thank you Men's Sheds for your hard work so far and we look forward to welcoming you to the Island again soon.
